Section 1 – Target Market and Product Features

An investor who satisfies the following is in the target market for the Portfolio:

- wants an investment that's diversified across markets, asset classes, investment managers, and securities;
- wants the Portfolio's manager to actively adjust the portfolio to take advantage of opportunities to provide better returns, or less risk, than those generated by the investment markets the portfolio invests in;
- wants long-term capital growth and therefore seeks an investment that predominantly invests in growth assets;
- understands there can be large fluctuations in income and the value of their investment; and
- wants to invest either:
 - indirectly, through a 'platform product' (such as an investor-directed portfolio service or a 'wrap'-style superannuation product); or
 - directly, by application to us (provided the amount they want to invest is at least $500,000 and is an Australian or New Zealand resident).

The Product Features of the Portfolio are set out in the table below:

Please note, if an investor intends to hold this Portfolio as part of a diversified portfolio, the Portfolio should be assessed against the investor's requirements for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the investor's requirements for their portfolio as a whole.

For example, an investor may seek to construct an overall conservative portfolio which includes an allocation to a higher risk investment. In this case, it may be likely that an investment with a higher risk/return profile is consistent with the investor's requirements, even though the risk profile of the investor overall is lower than the investment selected. In making this assessment, please consider all Product Features.
