Your Duty To Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation

About this application and your duty

When you apply for life insurance, the insurer conducts a process called underwriting. It's how we decide whether we can cover you, and if so on what terms and at what cost.

We will ask questions we need to know the answers to. These will be about your personal circumstances, such as your health and medical history, occupation, income, lifestyle, pastimes, and current and past insurance. The information you give us in response to our questions is vital to their decision.

The duty to take reasonable care

When applying for insurance, there is a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth. This duty also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

If you do not meet your duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be changed. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced.

Please note that there may be circumstances where the insurer later investigates whether the information given was true. For example, we may do this when a claim is made.

Guidance for answering questions

You are responsible for the information provided to us. When answering the questions, please:

- think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure about any question, we are here to help and you can contact us;
- answer every question;
- answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it;
- review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, an adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted; and
- you must not assume that we will contact your doctor for any medical information. If you are unsure about whether you should include information or not, please include it.

Your duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation continues until the time your insurance cover starts. The duty applies when you answer questions in your application and whenever we obtain more information from you.

If you need help

It's important that you understand this information and the questions we ask. Ask us or your adviser for help if you need help understanding the process of buying insurance or answering the questions.

If you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason, we're here to help and can provide additional support for anyone who might need it. If you want, you can have a support person you trust with you.

What can the Insurer do if the duty is not met?

If the person who answers the questions does not take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation, there are different remedies that may be available to us. These are set out in the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth). These are intended to put us in the position they would have been in if the duty had been met.

For example the insurer may:

- avoid the cover (treat it as if it never existed);
- vary the amount of the cover; or
- vary the terms of the cover.

Whether we can exercise one of these remedies depends on a number of factors, including:

- whether the person who answered our questions took reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation. This depends on all of the relevant circumstances..
- what we would have done if the duty had been met – for example, whether we would have offered cover, and, if so, on what terms
- whether the misrepresentation was fraudulent; and
- in some cases, how long it has been since the cover started.

Before we can exercise any of these remedies, we will explain our reasons, how to respond and provide further information, including what you can do if you disagree.

It is important that you carefully read and understand the following declaration and acknowledgement before signing it.

Once you have signed, the Trustee and MLC Limited (Insurer) intend to rely on the written terms in the declaration and acknowledgements that you give. If you do not understand any of these terms, or if any of these terms do not reflect your understanding of the arrangement, you should contact us before signing and returning this form.

I declare and acknowledge that:

- The information that I have provided in this form is true and accurate.
- I have read and understand the duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation;
- I'm choosing to fix my Death and TPD cover and it won't reduce by 5% each year between my 41st and 60th birthdays.
- If my TPD cover is higher than my Death cover, it will become fixed at the same level as my Death cover.
- From age 61, my TPD cover will reduce by equal amounts each year until it ends at age 65 (or 10% each year if it ends at age 70).
- My insurance premiums will continue to be deducted from my super account to pay for the cost of my insurance and this will reduce my super balance.
- My super account needs to have sufficient funds to pay for the cost of my insurance.
- If my account becomes inactive (inactive means, no contributions or rollovers received into your account for over 16 months) my insurance cover will cease (unless you've provided us with your written election to retain your cover).
- I'll be notified, if I don't have enough funds in my account or my account becomes inactive.
- I can cancel or change my insurance cover at any time.
- I accept any premiums payable in respect of my chosen insurance cover and understand that these premiums will be deducted from my account and may change in the future. The premium rates are set out in the current Insurance Guide that forms part of the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) available at mlc.com.au or by calling us on 132 652.
