Wouldn't it be great if you could increase your insurance without any medical evidence? Well now you can.

When you get married, buy your first home or have a child, life can change dramatically. And, so might your insurance needs.

We know how important it is to make sure you and your family are protected. That's why when big things like these happen, we make it easy for you to increase your Death and Total Permanent Disability (TPD) insurance by up to 25%, but the increase can't be more than $200,000.

All you need to do is complete this form within 90 days of a life event occurring.

Things to consider

There are a few things to consider when you increase your insurance.

Any insurance you currently have may be linked to your age or salary and will change to a fixed amount of insurance. This means the insurance you apply for, if accepted, will be fixed at this amount and any decreases or increases you may have automatically received won't apply.

Any conditions you have on your current insurance, like premium loadings or exclusions will apply to your increased insurance.

You can only use this feature once in any 12 month period, and up to three times in total.

You may be eligible to increase your Death and TPD insurance by up to 25% of your original insurance, but the increase can't be more than $200,000.

The insurance amount will not be payable for suicide for the first 13 months of the increase.

How to apply?

Applying is easy, all it takes is three quick steps.

1. Complete the attached form
2. Make sure you read the section of the form relating to your duty of disclosure, non-disclosure and your agreement and declaration, and
3. Return the completed form to us and include the documents required for the life event that occurred.

Then, we'll confirm your insured amount.

Make sure you have enough insurance

To find out how much insurance you need, you should speak with your Financial adviser or call us on 135 652.

If you'd like to apply for more insurance outside of a life event, please complete the Short form insurance application on mlc.com.au

4. Your duty of disclosure

When you apply for a life insurance policy, you have a duty to tell us anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect our decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until we agree to insure you.

You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the policy.

You do not need to tell us anything that:

- reduces the risk we insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- we know or should know as an insurer; or
- we waive your duty to tell us about.

If someone other than you will be the life insured under the policy, any failure by that person to comply with the above duty will be treated as failure by you.

If you request life insurance inside super, the Trustee obtains this insurance from us in relation to you. In this circumstance, we rely on the disclosures that you or the Trustee makes to us.

If you do not tell us something

In exercising the following rights, we may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate policies of life insurance. If they do, we may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell us anything you are required to, and we would not have insured you if you had told us, we may avoid the policy within 3 years of entering into it.

If we choose not to avoid the policy, we may, at any time, reduce the amount you have been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told us everything you should have. However, if the policy provides cover on death, we may only exercise this right within 3 years of entering into the policy.

If we choose not to avoid the policy or reduce the amount you have been insured for, we may, at any time vary the policy in a way that places us in the same position we would have been in if you had told us everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the policy provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell us is fraudulent, we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the policy as if it never existed.

5. Your agreement and declaration
